

BALADO- ZARATE

Val do Salnés

APPELLATION: Rías Baixas

BLEND: Albariño (100%)

WINEMAKER: Eulogio Pomares

VINEYARD: _____

Zarate is a family-owned estate located in Meaño, the heart of the Salnés Valley in the Rías Baixas appellation. Balado comes from two small parcels of vines in Sisán-Ribadumia, replanted- ungrafted- in 1950. South-facing, with shallow poor soils. Climate is Atlantic.

VITICULTURE: _____

From 1994, the vineyards have been un-tilled, with permanent natural cover (mint, dandelion and a dozen other herbs) and there are no herbicides or chemically synthesised nutrients. The grass is cut for mulch three times/year and no fertilisers are used. New vineyards are composted once with sardines and Atlantic seaweed, and planted to diverse selections of quality genetic material from Eulogio's best holdings. Mildew is attacked with rock sulphur in powder and spray form, and a variety of copper formats are applied at extremely low levels to avoid soil toxicity.

WINEMAKING: _____

After hand-picking the grapes, fruit is destemmed and lightly pressed. Wine is fermented in stainless steel tanks and rests on its fine lees for a total of 9 months, with no battonage or malolactic fermentation.

This wine is suitable for vegans and vegetarians.

TASTING NOTES: _____

A mouthfilling, juicy, saline style of Albariño, and an excellent example of this grape. Exceptional quality of fruit from a tiny, low-yielding 0.3ha. plot of 150 year old vines. A long, rich finish.
